About the Symposium

The international symposium "Frontiers of Research on Speech and Music (FRSM) is organised in different parts of India, every year, to provide a platform for the scientists and technologists for interaction since 1990. Previously the symposium was held in the name of "International workshop on Recent Trends in Speech, Music and Allied Signal Processing". Till date, these symposiums were held at Kolkata, Varanasi, New Delhi, Santiniketan, Thiruvananthapuram, Kanpur, Annamalai, Bhubaneswar, Lucknow and Mysore to promote research interest in these areas to researchers working in different fields like physics, mathematics, linguistics, musicology, electronics and computer science.

The continuation of these events would not have been possible without the active co-operation of Indian Statistical Institute, Banaras Hindu University, Visva Bharati University, International School of Dravidian Linguistics, IIT Kanpur, Annamalai University, Utkal University, Uttar Pradesh Technical University, Jadavpur University, All India Institute of Speech and Hearing and Acoustical Society of India and active participation of various research groups particularly, Tata Institute of Fundamental Research, Indian Institute of Science, various IITs and Indian and foreign universities and institutions.

The two-day symposium on Frontiers of Research on Speech and Music (FRSM – 2009) will be held at ABV-Indian Institute of Information Technology & Management, Gwalior (ABV-IIITM Gwalior), India, during 15-16 December, 2009.
